

Dear colleagues,

20 years of Global Child Health: time to recap, celebrate and peek into the future!

The Amsterdam Centre for Global Child Health (ACGCH) cordially invites you to the symposium

Two decades of Global Child Health

When

October 30th, 13.15h – 17.30h

Programme

The symposium will kick off with a keynote by Prof. Bernard Brabin, founder of the ACGCH (formerly known as Global Child Health Group), and Prof. Marceline Tutu van Furth, on the history of the global child health. Furthermore, we've invited several guest speakers to share their stories, highlighting the main activities of the ACGCH. We'll conclude the programme with an outlook to the future by Prof. Michaël Boele van Hensbroek, head of the ACGCH.

Symposium during COVID-19?

The symposium will be organised as a hybrid event, both live at the Amsterdam UMC and online via a livestream. The in-person event gives room for 45 attendees, taking into account all COVID-19 measures. Please make sure to register via the following link to claim your spot and to stay updated on the latest information regarding the event:

<https://twodecadesofglobalchildhealth.splashthat.com>

Where

Live: Amsterdam UMC, lecture hall 4

Online: livestream tba